Walk nr. 3 : Museum-Binnenhaven (Museum Port)

This walk of medium length, starts at the 'Goudse Waag' (Tourist Information), cross the market square, keep the old town hall to the left. Enter the 'Wijdstraat' and walk on keeping left into the 'Dubbele Buurt'. Cross the Sint Jans' brug (Bridge of St. John), and have a look at the 13th century Dark Lock, the oldest lock in town. Turn left on to de Westhaven. Take a look at the facades at either side of the canal: the Museum Gouda (Catherina gasthuis, 17th Century hospital) and it's chapel. At the right the patrician's house Het Dubbeld Ancker, former tobaccoshop De Moriaan in Dutch Renaissance-style, and sociëteit Concordia (Roman Catholic gentlemen's club). Turn right at the next bridge into the Noodgodsstraat, named after a medieval chapel demolished in 1576.

A model of the chapel can be found in Museum Gouda, in the maquette. At the end of the street turn left. You're now in the Peperstraat. At nr. 92-96 Van de Velde en Halewijn wine store is based since 1818. De Armenkerk (Poor men's church) at nr. 128 and nr. 130 is De Waterhont, a 14th Century workshop. The Peperstraat, containing many old warehouses, ends at the former Veerstalpoort (the farmer's ferry gate), of which only remnants remain. Turn right to see the Museum harbor, where Gouda's nautical heritage is kept. In the 16th century ships on their way to liberate Leiden passed this lock, the Mallegatsluis. Take a breather in the Museum harbour café before continuing your walk down to the foot path in the direction of Croda (former Gouda Candle Factory) and step down along side the canal. Enjoy the impressive view at the museum harbour for a bit. This industrial area has a long history, partly visible in the pictures exhibited on the wall. Walk on to the Turfsingel, keep the canal to the right.

The huge once textile factory 'de Garensponnerij' is now a cultural centre. Check the programme for today's activities. And check out the square where also much is going on today. Look across the water to the left 'De Kleisuur' just started its new life. This remnant of Gouda's former pottery industry was recently transformed into an organic restaurant. When crossing 'De Guldenbrug' take the right (de Vest). In front of you 'de Asschuur (once used for waste collection) is now a dance club for young people. Pass the mill, de Rode Leeuw, which is still operational, and turn left at nr 30, into 'de Drapiersteeg'. Walk to 'de Raam'. At your right you may see Mosque Nour. Keep the right hand side of the Raam until the crossing and turn left at the Kuiperstaat.

At the left you'll see the Barabaratoren (St. Barbara's tower), a last remainder of a 15th century monastery. Opposite the tower take a look at the historical shop De oude Bezem- en Borstelfabriek van de fam. Anders (Family Anders' old Broom en Bristle Factory). Take a peak at the back of the Gouwekerk a little further on through the Saffraanpoort. At the right Gouda Syrup waffles are still produced and at the left the former Gouda Pipe makers 'Van der Want' were situated. Walk on to the Peperstraat and go left. Half way you may see the gate to a 'hofje' (a courtyard with almshouses around it). Also take a look at the neo-Renaissance Church of De Raadt at nr. 20.

At the end of the Peperstraat turn right, but before you do so, make sure you have a good look at the Visbank (the market hall where till the late 19th Century fish was sold). At the end of this street (Hoge Gouwe) you turn left, pass the canal and walk on to the town square, where the medieval gothic town hall and the Christmas tree will meet you!
